OFFICIALS SHOOT HOLES IN "DEFENSE" OF HAUPTMANN; USED SOME OF MONEY EIGHT MONTHS AGO TO PAY HIS RENT

Police Scoff at Story Told Regarding Isadore Fisch, As An Insult To Their Intelligence—Landlady Finds Two of Ransom Bills Which She Says Hauptmann Paid to Her

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—Police officials today shot holes in the "defense" of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, "black sheep" member of a German family, who is held in jail here in connection with the kidnapping and murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

Another weak spot in the alibi of the tight-lipped carpenter came to light with the revelation that Hauptmann used ransom money in paying his rent eight months ago.

Hauptmann answering questions at the police "line-up" yesterday concerning the $13,750 of the Lindbergh ransom found secreted in his garage declared the first he knew that this cache was money was three weeks ago.

Yesterday, it was disclosed Hauptmann in paying his rent last January 3rd to his landlady, Mrs. Pauline Rauch, 75 years old, had handed over five $10 bills, one of which was a gold certificate, and formed part of the ransom money. This sharp discrepancy is simply one other reason why police do not believe Hauptmann's story that not only does he know nothing of the kidnapping but that he had nothing to do with obtaining the $50,000 ransom.

Hauptmann said the money found in the garage had been left in his safe-keeping by a friend—one Isadore Fisch, who went off to Germany and died. The police scoff at this explanation as being almost an insult to their intelligence.

Detectives searching for clues and more ransom money interviewed Mrs. Rauch who lives on the first floor of a two-story house in the Bronx, whose upper floor is occupied by the Hauptmanns.

After ransacking the pantry and other parts of her home, the landlady found two of the Lindbergh ransom bills was given to her last January, bills given to her last January.

Police recalled that when Inspector John J. Sullivan questioned Hauptmann at the police "line-up" yesterday, the questioning ran as follows:

Q—Where did you get all the money in your garage?

A—A friend gave me all his effects to take care of until he came back from the other side.

Q—Is he coming back?

A—No, he died in Germany.

Q—Did you know it was money?

A—I did not know it was money; I thought it was bills, anything, I never suspected it was money.

Q—When did you find out it was money?

A—Three weeks ago.

Sullivan also pointed out Hauptmann had not worked steadily since 1932 and in the meantime spent considerable money.

The cold, commonplace looking Hauptmann quartered in a cell in the Bronx county jail today was making the most of the lull in the police questioning of him.

Early this morning District Attorney Samuel J. Foley announced at the conclusion of a 9-hour examination of the prisoner he would go before the Bronx Grand Jury Monday to seek an indictment against the man. Foley, however, had not determined on which charge he will seek the indictment.

Hauptmann is already charged with extortion in New York and with murder in New Jersey. Governor Harry Moore of New Jersey, who signed extradition papers for the extradition of the prisoner said extradition proceedings would be held in abeyance pending further investigation.

While Hauptmann sat in stony silence in his cell, still refusing today—four days after being taken into custody—to make any admissions involving him in the crime which has shocked the world, the police officials and detectives tied him closer and closer in the kidnapping case.

Detectives were working on a mass of tips, some promising, some not, but all requiring checking. They were endeavoring to build up a mountain of circumstantial evidence against the prisoner, figuring that however stubbornly Hauptmann refuses to talk the facts they dig up will speak convincingly against him.

Party Takes Place In Honor of Wagner Carter

The 12th birthday of Wagner Carter, was celebrated last evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carter, 555 Swain street. Dancing and games were enjoyed.

Attendants were: Wagner Carter, Dorothy Arbutnot, Lloyd and David Ludwig, Doris Sutton, Pearl Smith, William Gallagher, Evelyn and George White, Dorothy, Grace, James and Jesse Vansant, Edward McGlynn, Dorothy Bilger, William Wallace, Anna May Young, John Murray, Bett, Sharp, Mildred Miller, Dorothy Ritter, Betty Shields and Janice Jeffries.

Wagner was the recipient of many gifts as mementoes of the occasion.

PUBLISHERS PLAN TO DISCUSS COST OF PAPER

State Association Members At Seven Regional Meetings Starting Today

SEEK WIDER INFLUENCE

HARRISBURG, Sept. 22 — Rising costs of operation of newspaper plants, reader interest in editorials on social and economic problems and many technical subjects connected with the newspaper publishing industry will be discussed by editors and publishers of the state at a series of meetings which started today under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association.

The first meeting took the form of a luncheon and afternoon round-table at the Hotel Hershey, Hershey, and was attended by weekly and semi-weekly-paper publishers in the south-central part of the state. Between now and October 15, four meetings will be held for the proprietors of weekly papers, and three for the owners of dailies.

Coincident with the start of these Fall Regional Meetings, the ensuing week will be observed by the newspapers of the state as Newspaper Prestige Week, during which time many newspapers will keep open-house for their readers and advertisers.

Charles P. Howe, of the Valley Daily News, Tarentum, president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association, will attend the sessions of the daily-paper men, and H. E. Trout, of the Manheim Sentinel, vice president, will attend the weekly meetings. George R. Fry of the Newport Weekly News-Sun presided at the opening session at Hershey today.

At a meeting of daily-paper publishers in the central part of the state at the Hotel Hershey, Monday, September 24, Mayor John K. R. Schropp of the Lebanon News-Times, will preside. At a meeting of daily-paper publishers from the eastern part of the state at the Wyomissing Club, Reading, Monday, October 1, Hawley Quier of the Reading Eagle, will be in charge.

Western daily-paper publishers will meet at the Hotel New Castle, New Castle, Monday, October 15, with Fred L. Reutz of the New Castle News, in charge.

Weekly-paper publishers in the eastern section of the state will meet at the Hotel Benjamin Franklin, Philadelphia, Saturday, September 29, joining with the members of the Bucks-Montgomery Press Association at a luncheon and round-table discussion.

Weekly-paper men in the north-central section will meet at Canoe Place Inn, Port Allegheny, Saturday, October 6; C. F. Boller of the Port Allegheny Reporter-Argus, will preside. The weekly-paper editors and publishers in western Pennsylvania will meet at the Hotel William Penn, Pittsburgh, Saturday, October 13, under the leadership of Charles W. Roll of the Corapolis Record.

Reports from the Association's Central Office in Harrisburg show that both the dailies and weeklies have been facing a serious situation this summer due to increased operating expenses. Advertising revenue of the newspapers increased during the first six months of the year, the report

Four Men Hurt When Car Crashes Into Pole Here

An automobile occupied by four Philadelphians crashed into a pole on Monroe street early this morning, and was demolished.

The four occupants of the car gave their names as Clinton Myers, 2240 Larue street; Albert Mills, 4632 H street; Francis Ross, 2284 Kennedy street; and Paul LaRue, 5028 James street.

The car was registered in the name of Myers, who also carried a driver's license.

All four men were cut and bruised, but none seriously. They were treated at the Harriman Hospital and then taken into custody by the police.

Evidently the driver lost control of the machine as the car turned off Farragut avenue into Monroe street and then crashed into the pole. Those nearby, hearing the crash, went to the scene and extricated the men and called police.

EXONERATE TWO DRIVERS OF ACCIDENT BLAME

Inquests Conducted Into The Deaths of Earl C. Hovatter and Joseph Cameron

BOTH UNAVOIDABLE

Two drivers of automobiles figuring in crashes in which two men were killed were exonerated last night by coroner juries at inquests held in the municipal building here.

The verdict in both cases was that the accident was unavoidable and that the defendant be exonerated of all blame.

Thomas Lawrence, James Lynn, John Black and William Groff con-Charles Lawrence, William Ewing, prised the jury in both instances, with Groff as the foreman.

The inquests were conducted by Dr. John J. Sweeney, Bucks County Coroner. Deputy Coroner W. Furman Young testified in both cases as having viewed the bodies.

The first case was an inquisition into the death of Earl C. Hovatter, 25, Beaver Dam Road, Bristol. Hovatter died in the Harriman Hospital August 5th. His left arm was almost amputated when the roadster he was driving side-swiped with a truck operated by Hull Leary, 25, of 2107 Wilson avenue, Bristol, on Rogers Road, on August 3rd. Highway Patrolman Car-fagust testified as to his investigation of the accident.

The principal witness was Israel Glazer, who told of being invited by Hovatter to take a ride to Langhorne, while the former delivered a package of laundry. Glazer testified that he and Hovatter stopped at a beer garden on the return trip and that he, Glazer, had one beer, while Hovatter had four or five. Glazer said he was anxious to get home as his wife did not know where he had gone, and he pleaded with Hovatter to drive back to Bristol, after the two had spent over two hours at the beer garden. Glazer described how Hovatter drove at a high rate of speed on the return to Bristol, and that he constantly cautioned him about driving so rapidly. He told of seeing the truck approaching, and testified that he said, "Earl, get over; you're not over far enough." Then the crash came.

The front wheels of the car went over a slight embankment, and Glazer was able to step out unhurt. He said Hovatter called to him from the other side of the car, asking, "Glazer, are you hurt?" Then holding up his torn arm, Hovatter said, "This is what happened to me." Glazer said Hovatter then lighted a cigarette and smoked.

The arm was so badly mangled that it had to be amputated at the Harri-

FOREIGN WAR VETERANS TO BE HOSTS TO FAMILIES

Joseph A. Schumacher Post Plans Interesting Program for Tonight

TO MARK ANNIVERSARY

The Joseph A. Schumacher Post, No. 1597, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States will be host to their families, and to any veteran who is eligible to membership in the said organization, at a social affair to be held tonight at 8 o'clock, in their post rooms, at Croydon, in observance of the 35th birthday anniversary of the national organization. The feature of the evening will be a thirty minute V. F. W. radio program broadcast over a nation-wide network of the National Broadcasting Company, beginning at nine o'clock. Commander-in-Chief James E. VanZandt, Major General Smedley D. Butler, United States Marines retired, and James C. Putnam, founder and first Commander-in-Chief of the V. F. W., will each make a brief address, and the program will also include appropriate music by the United States Marine Band.

A spokesman for the organization said:

"The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States is unique among veteran organizations because it is an 'evergreen' order, to which all overseas veterans of all American Wars, who have an honorable discharge are eligible. According to the officers of the Joseph A. Schumacher post of Croydon, its membership includes veterans of the Spanish War, the Philippine Expedition, Mexican Expedition, S. Domingo Expedition, and the World War.

"The V. F. W. was organized Sept. 23, 1899, by a group of thirteen Spanish war veterans, who desired to per-

LEAGUES HEAR OF THE TRUE SOURCE OF POWER

Rev. Leon T. Moore, Allentown, Addresses 270 From Bristol Group Here

INSTITUTE REPORTS

The program for the Bristol Group of Epworth Leagues at the September rally last evening in Bristol Methodist Church, included reports of the Pocono Epworth League Institute; an address by the Rev. Leon T. Moore, pastor of Asbury Church, Allentown; a contest between three vocal quartets; and the serving of refreshments by the hostess league.

Two hundred and seventy young people assembled in the church auditorium for the business meeting and program with 13 leagues represented. Thomas Chase, Group president, and a member of the Scottsville League, occupied the chair.

Four banners were awarded as follows: Attendance, Scottsville; largest percentage of members present, Yardley; mileage, Lahaska; quartet, Newtown. The quartets vying for honors were from Newtown, Emilie and Bristol.

Reports of the Pocono Institute at Paradise Falls during July were given by Miss Forsythe, Newtown; Miss Nellie E. Main, Hulmeville; Ernest Keyser, Lahaska; and a representative of the Yardley organization. An organ solo, by Miss Caroline Betz, was thoroughly enjoyed.

In his address on "The Adequacy of Jesus Christ for Our Day," the Rev. Moore, who is dean of the Pocono Institute, had a most stirring message. He expressed his pleasure over the heartening testimony given by the Instituters, and his pleasure in "seeing their lives witnessing 'good.'" He contrasted the lives of whole-hearted Leaguers with other young people who are debauching themselves and others. "It's a joy to see the young folks come back from Institute and witness by their lives for Christ," he added.

Continuing with his message, the minister differentiated between two kinds of power. "There is power and power. Some men and women today are seeking power in some form to overcome other power." Then he told of the power of the life of human beings endowed with the power of the Christ. "The Christian faith rises and falls on the Person of Jesus. There's something about the Person of Jesus Christ that just makes Him different."

Conditions since the repeal of the 18th Amendment were gone into, and the power to change these mentioned. "Will education, or program building, or technique do it? The Bible says we will get the power from Him if we believe." With the major movements of the world being youth movements, the speaker asked the young people, "Are you looking for health and power anywhere? Look to the Lord Jesus Christ, for only in Jesus, and Jesus in you, can you find power and strength to achieve."

WOMEN MEET

The ladies of the Anchor Yacht Club held their regular monthly business meeting Thursday evening in the club rooms, Pine Grove. A social time and refreshments were enjoyed following the meeting.

"Gentlemen's Night" Is Feature of Civic Club

YARDLEY, Sept. 22—The Yardley Civic Club opened its 1934 club year by "Gentlemen's Night," Thursday evening, in St. Andrew's parish house.

An enjoyable evening was spent with the entertainment supplied by the Philadelphia Electric Company, whose representatives showed motion pictures of "The Century of Progress Exposition," Chicago, "The Life of Abraham Lincoln," and some vital incidents in the lives of some famous musical composers.

Mrs. Algernon S. Cadawallader, the president, presided, opening the evening by a short talk.

The first business session will occur October 4th, in the club rooms. Mrs. A. J. Cadwallader will be one of the speakers, and her subject will be some of the current day problems confronting the American people.

CHURCH SCHOOL TEACHERS URGED TO LIVE RELIGION

Rev. Lewis Pitt, Ardmore, Says Indifference of Parents Is Great Problem

PLAN STUDY COURSE

The Fall meeting of the Bucks County Episcopal Church School Teachers was held last evening at St. James's Church, at which the Rev. Louis Pitt, rector of St. Mary's Church, Ardmore, made an interesting and inspiring address. Rev. Pitt told that teaching Sunday School is vastly different from teaching public school, in that the job of the Church School teacher is imparting of their own religious experience to boys and girls. "Religion," he stated, "is a way of living, and the Church School's purpose is to show boys and girls the real way to live here."

The Rev. Pitt stressed the importance of teacher preparation, and pointed out the great problem to combat is the indifference of parents. He urged teachers to have a rich religious experience, and to actually live the religion they try to teach.

After the church service the group assembled in the parish house for a brief business session, at which time Miss Schaul, of Chestnut Hill, gave an address on newer methods of teaching, and had a number of posters, note-books and other exhibits of what the church school students of all ages could do.

Plans for a normal school course for all teachers was discussed, and a course on the Life of Christ will be given for five weeks at St. James's, Langhorne, starting Friday, October 19th, at eight p. m. The Rev. George E. Boswell, rector of St. James's Church, here, will be the instructor.

Young people's work was also discussed last evening, and the association plans to have a series of young people's meetings in various churches in the near future.

Light refreshments were served to the 75 attending.

The religious meeting was in charge of the Rev. Boswell; and the Rev. James C. Gilbert, Hulmeville, directed the business session.

O'Donnell Brothers In Fuel Oil Business Here

O'Donnell Brothers, who for the past 16 years have conducted the coal-lumber and building material establishment on Bath street, always alert to the needs of their patrons, have added fuel oil, gasoline and kerosene to the list of products which they sell.

Starting today they are equipped to deliver fuel oil, gasoline and kerosene to your door in a new three-ton latest type tank truck, with meter measuring device. This truck has a capacity of 8,000 gallons and O'Donnell Brothers will give immediate service at all times. A 50,000 gallon bulk plant has also been erected in the rear of their property which will enable them to have enough fuel oil on hand to meet any demand.

In speaking of the new service Edward O'Donnell, one of the five active brothers, said: "We have contemplated this move for a long time and after a lot of study decided to take over the Socony Vacuum Oil Company's products. Their oil and gasoline seems to meet with the requirements very necessary for a successful business."

Continuing Mr. O'Donnell said: "To us, service is far more than a necessary adjunct to sales. The two are equal in importance, delivery of goods against our fuel oil contracts does not complete our obligation of seeing that the products we sell give the service our customers rightfully expect."

TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Mrs. Clara Bailey, Cleveland street, Mrs. Joseph Keers, Jackson street, and Mrs. W. H. Thompson, 212 Radcliffe street, will leave the first part of next week for Uniontown, where they will attend the State Convention of Daughters of America.

REPORT FOR C. C. C.

Any young men interested in C. C. C. camps are asked to report at the municipal building on Monday at 10 a. m.

DEFER SENTENCE OF BOY WHO STOLE A BICYCLE HERE

Nick Saranzak Pleads Guilty To Charge Before Judge Keller

THE SPEZZANO CASE

Court Divides Costs Equally Between Spezzano And Mrs. Conti

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 22—Sentence was deferred by Judge Keller in the case of Nick Saranzak, Bristol, who pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a bicycle. Sheriff Ross was asked to communicate with the boy's sister and see whether she will make a home for the boy.

The case was heard at a session of criminal court here yesterday.

Charles Spezzano, Bristol, went on trial charged with aggravated assault and battery and assault and battery. The charge was lodged by Mrs. Anna Conti, a neighbor. The two engaged in a quarrel and flower pots were thrown.

Witnesses for the Commonwealth were Dr. William C. LeCompte, Anna Conti, Lillian Denny and Ella De-Resse, all of Bristol.

Rose and Mary Spezzano and Mary Tambarella were the witnesses for the defendant.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, but directed that the costs of prosecution be divided equally between Mrs. Conti and Spezzano.

Harry Heath, sixty-six-year-old junk dealer of Warrington, was convicted of aggravated assault and battery and assault and battery on Thursday afternoon before President Judge Hiram H. Keller.

President Judge Keller sentenced Heath to pay a fine of $100 and the costs of prosecution. A prison sentence of 30 days to two years was suspended, and the defendant was placed on probation for two years.

Leidy Krout, of Bristol Road, Warrington, the first witness for the Commonwealth, testified that he stopped in at the Heath home on Guinea Lane on Sunday morning about 11 o'clock, May 27.

"Heath told me he had a new car, but was not able to handle the gear shift, and asked me to come over and take him out for a ride. We had several drinks together. About 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon I reported at the Heath home and took Heath and his housekeeper, Anna O'Neill, for a ride. All of us took a few drinks before leaving, but I was careful because I never drink much when I want to drive a car."

The party returned to the Heath home about 10:30 o'clock that evening. It was then, Krout stated, they went on a drinking bout. The housekeeper, who was also drunk, he said, attempted to build a fire in the kitchen stove to heat some coffee.

"I said to Anna 'Didn't Heath go out quick,' and slapped her in fun. Heath, who was sitting in a chair, holding his head in his hands, said: 'I am drunk, drunk all over.' Suddenly he jumped out of the chair grabbed a .22-rifle and leveled it at me shouting 'Get out of here, you —'."

"He discharged the gun, a bullet just grazed the top of my head, inflicting a flesh wound. I ran out of the kitchen and into the fields, hiding in the grass. When I returned for my coat and hat which were in the kitchen, I heard him discharge a shot gun, and felt some of the shot land in my leg."

During the brawl in the house, Krout told the Court, he was hit in the eye by Heath.

Assistant District Attorney Edward G. Biester offered in evidence a double-barreled shot gun, and a rifle which belonged to the defendant.

Krout and Heath were close friends for more than 20 years and Krout has known Heath's housekeeper slightly more than a year.

The next witness for the Commonwealth was Constable Albert R. Atkinson, of this place, who served a warrant on Heath. He was accompanied by State Trooper Lawrence Priar, who was unable to attend court because of strike duty.

Constable Atkinson described Heath as being intoxicated, and explained his housekeeper was much more intoxicated than Heath when placed under arrest.

"Trooper Priar picked up a whiskey bottle—containing moonshine—outside of the house, and when Mrs. O'Neill saw the trooper had it in his possession she asked him for a drink, and begged him to leave it there."

Constable Atkinson admitted that he detected alcohol on the breath of Heath and the housekeeper, but did not notice any on Krout's when he was taken to the local barracks of the State Police.

Taking the stand in his own defense, Heath, a tall, gaunt man, testified that after returning home from the automobile ride he suffered a terrible headache. "I sat in the kitchen with my head in my hands when I heard Anna cry for help. Krout was making improper advances toward her, and had attempted to attack her."

Porch Party Indulged In By Pastor's Aid Society

The Fall meeting of the Pastor's Aid Society, Bristol M. E. Church, was conducted yesterday in the form of a porch party, where supper was also served. Mrs. Doron Green, Radcliffe street, was hostess.

A short business meeting preceded the supper party. Election of officers took place. Results were: President, Mrs. Doron Green; vice president, Mrs. William P. Betz; secretary, Mrs. Lewis Treude; treasurer, Mrs. Emma Woodington.

Wedding of Anne McGinley To Robert Keim Takes Place

The wedding of Miss Anne McGinley, 231 Buckley street, and Robert Keim, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Keim, Langhorne, took place this morning at St. Mark's Rectory, with the Rev. E. Paul Baird, officiating.

Attendants of the young couple were: Mrs. Alpheus Smyrl, Mill street, and Jack McGinley, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Keim's frock was of peacock blue toned Roshanara crepe, made tailored fashion. Her accessories were of brown tone and her corsage was of cream toned tea roses.

The bridesmaid wore a gown of dark green hued Roshanara crepe. She also wore brown accessories with her costume. Her corsage was of pink tea roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Keim are on a honeymoon motor tour through New York, the New England States and Canada. They will make their home near Midway.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mark's Parochial School and has been employed in a clerical position with Sears, Roebuck & Company, Philadelphia. Mr. Keim is in the coal and lumber business in South Langhorne.

SOME OF GOWNS FOR EVENING REMINISCENT OF GINGHAM APRON

By Nadia De Boud

(I. N. S. Fashion Correspondent)

PARIS — (INS) — The evening gowns of Schiaparelli in the search for simplicity were strongly reminiscent of the line of the homely gingham apron. The skirts were wide and in the back a heavy cord was pulled through the top and knotted, giving a bunchy gathering at the back. Plain bodices formed the top, square décolleté with simple bands over the shoulders to the waist line.

Several other models were cone shaped showing the ankles in front. One such model in black had five rows of black lace of graduated width daring out suddenly from the knees down. The skirt was quite narrow above, but held out by metal hoops below, which had to be lifted to permit passage of doors.

Another sensation was a gown of white spun glass material, like that made in Venice for many centuries, from which small baskets were woven. This new fabric was quite soft and wooly to the touch, but had a strange sheen. The gown was built on the kitchen apron pattern.

the organization grew and spread until now it has more than 3,100 local posts organized in every State of the union, and in many foreign lands, including France, China, Canada and Cuba. According to the officers of the Schumacher Post, this organization has never been merely a veteran group, but its first purpose is the welfare and the care of all veterans, and especially the disabled, their dependents, and the widows and the orphans of the former veterans. Every civic, educational and patriotic activity in the country has to some measure the interest and the co-operation of the V. F. W.

"No worthy member of the V. F. W. considers his war-time service a complete duty. In reality he is not an ex-service man, but a service man. Our members were not only good soldiers in time of war, but they are good citizens. To their continued service and to their devotion to the highest principles of good citizenship and public welfare the V. F. W. owes its constantly increasing strength and the highest place it has won for itself among the recognized and valued institutions of our country."

ST. ANN'S ELEVEN WILL OPEN SEASON TOMORROW

Two undefeated teams of 1933, the St. Ann's A. and the Hunting Pros, of Philadelphia, will be pitted against each other tomorrow afternoon on St. Ann's field as the Saints' inaugurate their gridiron season.

The Philadelphia team set up an enviable record last season which was equal to the unbroken string of victories set up by the pride of Bristol. Playing in the West Philadelphia Catholic Football League, the Hunting team captured all of its games and won the championship handsly.

Hunting Pros has a first string line which will considerably outweigh the locals. Its average is close to 170 pounds, while its backfield is fast and is noted for its smashing line plays. An aerial attack possessed by the visitors is also labeled to set the Purple and Gold off its feet.

Coach Seneca feels confident of victory in his initial start as a player-coach and in a statement yesterday expressed the thought that the two teams are fairly evenly matched and the spectators will be witnessing a thrilling battle from the start.

During the practice sessions held this week, the eleven looks so well that the team which Seneca had planned to start may be dismantled and a new arrangement made. Coach Seneca will exhibit his best in an effort to start the locals off to a good beginning to retain the championship of Bucks County which they captured last season.

The players who have made the club and if possible will see action during the match are as follows: Guards, Tony Angelo, "Tink" Spadacino, "Boop" Nicols, Joe Magro, "Hank" Whyne, tackles, "Socks" Seneca, "Moonie" Seneca, "Henny" Kornstedt, and Dick Seneca; ends, "Lou" Conti, "Jim" Esposito, and "Pete" Court; backs, Nick Gallone, Al Cataline, "Ted" Tosti, "Turp" Ter-shon, "Phil" Quici, Austin Bono, "Tony" DiBlassio, "Tommy" Barrett, Ray Pico, Joe Missera, and "Pete" Bornice; centers, "Bud" Tunis, and "Monk" Oriola, "Bud" Tullio, "Tom" Barrett.

The St. Ann's team on a whole will average in the vicinity of 160 pounds although at times the team will be heavier when the bigger players are in action.

The past week has seen the members of the athletic association fixing the field to be in shape. Noticeable changes have been made. A cable has been stretched on the field from one end to another and placed in just such a position that a fan can see a play in any position of the field without moving from his place. The cable has been painted silver colored while the goal posts are painted checkered with black and white being the colors.

The field has been laid out in such a position that there will be ample parking space for the automobiles and the usual congestion after the game dispended with. Refreshments will be sold in the remodeled stand.

The St. Ann's manager, Angelo Nicols, is arranging a tentative schedule for the team and if the proper support is given, the best of attractions will be here.

Opening kick-off will take place at two-thirty o'clock with the following officials: Joseph Alta, Eugene Spadacino and Daniel Gregor.

EDDINGTON XI TO START SEASON NEXT SUNDAY

EDDINGTON, Sept. 22 — The Eddington Trojans will inaugurate the season tomorrow playing Bridesburg. The game is scheduled for three p. m., and will be played on the Eddington field, Bristol pike and Street road.

Coach Marvin Collins and Manager John Conn have assembled together many of the former Bristol Trojan players and have acquired several new players from the adjacent towns.

Much is expected this season from the following aggregation: ends, "El" James, "Jimmy" Lake, "Tom" Baines, "Joe" Myers, "Chick" Oppman; tackles, "Bill" Conn, Charles Irvin, Frankie Phillips; guards, "Bud" Davis, Marvin Collins, Harry Bellerby; centers, Howard English, "Whit" Sorenson, "Bud" Hopkins; backs, "Hokey" Leighton, "Lefty" Crossley, "Chick" Kutzer, "Norm" Hughes, "Joe" Roe, "Joey" Dibbs, "Ed" Curry, "Stet" Crossley.

GAME TOMORROW

The championship playoff of the Bristol Suburban League, between Newportville, winners of the first half, and Tullytown, winners of the second half, will be played on Sunday, September 23rd, at Newportville home ground, Sunset avenue and Emilie Road. Game called at 3 p. m.

MARK ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lynn, Mill street, entertained a few friends Thursday evening in honor of their first wedding anniversary. The evening was spent playing cards, and refreshments were served. Those present: Mr. and Mrs. Russell Booz, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simpson, Miss Helen Taylor, Bristol; Henry Reichert, Holmesburg.

OPERATE ON TRENTONIAN

Boyd Thiel, 45 Model avenue, Trenton, N. J., was operated upon at Harriman Hospital, this morning.

FOOTBALL AND BASEBALL BOOKED FOR WEEK-END

Sports fans of this vicinity have their choice of either baseball or football for the coming week-end. Several football games are booked while the baseball teams are still in the midst of the play-off series. Which sport will draw the most fans remains to be seen although the consensus points to the weather as being the sole judge.

If Old Man Weather continues his cool spell most of the thrill-seekers will be at the football games cheering for the rough and tumble game while if Old Man Sol comes out strong the fans would much rather sit in the bleachers and watch the boys go through the national pastime.

Today there will be no competition in the sports as the games scheduled are baseball affairs. On Leedom's field, the Twilight League All-Stars will meet the Lower Bucks All-Stars in their annual game. At Tullytown, the Tullytown A. C., winners of the second half of the Bristol Suburban League, will meet Newportville, the first half champions.

On the Sabbath day, both football and baseball games are listed. In the baseball line Edgely will continue its playoff series with Hulmeville while Tullytown and Newportville are also scheduled for play-off duty. In the gridiron sport, St. Ann's opens its season with the Hunting Pros, on St. Ann's field while the Eddington Trojans, under a new management meets the Keystone A. C., on the Highway and Street Road field.

Incidentally, all baseball games are scheduled for three o'clock while the football contests are booked at 2:30 o'clock.

You baseball fans who like to mix a little comedy with your sport, should keep tomorrow afternoon free from all other engagements and attend the ball game to be played between the American Legion and the Mill Street Business Men, on Leedom's field.

This game promises to be one that will send the spectators home talking to themselves... because the manager of both teams has selected his team with the idea of a lot of fun... The Legion boys have a number of former stars who may be a little heavy compared to their best playing weight of a few years ago, but who can still sock the apple around... and they are all rarin' to go.

Johnston Hetherington, first base; "Tullytown Bill" Swangler, catcher; Bill Sweeney, short; "Cupie" Bob Downing, (it will be something to see him pick them up at first base); Bobby Hems, Harry Burbank, "Toughy" Updike, Bill Griffen, Jack Miller, "Jumpin' Joe" Schrieber, the International Correspondence School moundsman; "Chink" Raub, Johnny Field, Harry Goheen, "Axel" White, Micky McCole, the ex-Leedom Comet; Leo Riley, Walt Strause and Johnny "Hugo" Brehm will wear the colors of the ex-Doughboys.

Manager I. Louis Rubin of the downtown squad has not given out his line-up as yet, but some of the sure starters are Abe "Shoey" Popkin, Harry (High Pockets) Goldman, Nate Hoffman, Jimmy Whyne, "Watchmaker" Lynn, "Auto" Block, "Damp Wash" Strout, Sammy Dries and Tom Proty.

The game is scheduled to start at 1:30 sharp with the added attraction of the Robert W. Bracken Post Cadets giving an exhibition before the game... The proceeds from the gate will be turned over to the Champion Cadets general fund... So, fans, if you want a good laugh and at the same time help a worthy cause, come out in crowds.

Defer Sentence of Boy Who Stole Bicycle Here

"I had a few drinks in the morning but none after that. I did not see Mrs. O'Neill drink anything. After Krout attacked my housekeeper I attempted to throw him out and during the tussle he fell on a mud scraper at the porch step striking his head.

Heath admitted shooting the gun into the air. "I shot into the air to attract the attention of any State officer who might be in the neighborhood to come to my aid," he said.

The fifty-six-year-old Irish housekeeper, Mrs. Anna May O'Neill, in testifying, denied that she was drunk or had been drinking. "Krout tried to throw his arms about me, and attack me while I was preparing the supper," she said.

She denied that she asked Trooper Priar for a drink when Heath was arrested later in the evening. She also explained that Krout suffered head injuries when he fell on the mud-scraper while having a hand to hand combat.

W. Layton Meisle, of Philadelphia, was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery by automobile when President Judge Hiram H. Keller directed that the jury return a verdict of not guilty because of insufficient evidence.

The jury returned a verdict in which the defendant and prosecutor, R. B. Hazel, of Delaware, were directed to pay the costs of prosecution.

The costs were divided equally between both motorists who collided on Old York Road, near Jamison, July 28. No one was injured, but both cars were damaged.

The valuable time of a jury, a judge and court officials was taken up yesterday while a dispute over a couple quarts of cherries was aired in court.

The defendant, Rudolph Sauerbaum, of Philadelphia, was acquitted but directed to pay the costs.

Testimony was presented by the Commonwealth, showing that Sauerbaum struck Mrs. Helen Ulmer of St. Leonard's during an argument between the woman's husband and the defendant. The jury deliberated more than two hours before reaching a decision.

Charles Cohn, of 3838 Girard avenue, Philadelphia, pleaded guilty before Judge Keller to a charge of operating an automobile while drunk, on the Lincoln Highway on August 16. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and costs.

"The Court will take into consideration the fact that you pleaded guilty and did not come into court and lie," Judge Keller remarked.

Cohn is a salesman employed by an oil company. He was arrested by Highway Patrolman F. X. Kelly, of South Langhorne.

Upon direction of the Court, Saul Steele, of Perkasie, was acquitted but directed to pay the costs on a charge of larceny by bailor. No testimony was heard in the case.

John Ewing, of Hartsville, charged with larceny of automobile and receiving stolen goods, was discharged by Judge Keller after Ewing had been allowed to withdraw a plea of guilty, and the case was ordered nolle-prossed.

Sergeant A. A. Discavage arrested Ewing, but testimony developed the fact that the defendant had not actually stolen an automobile, but that he actually had some equity in the car.

HID SILVER TOO WELL

SEATTLE — (INS) — When Dr. W. E. Joiner came home one day recently and couldn't find the family silverware, he immediately phoned police, reporting it stolen. Later he sheepishly called again to inform them that he had just hidden it so well he couldn't find it at first himself.

FILMS NOT INDECENT

PASADENA, Cal. — (INS) — The national film cleanup campaign to the contrary, shocking films are not indecent, George Shuler, chairman of the Pasadena Board of Review, has ruled. "Fundamentally a picture is not indecent, immoral or obscene because it shocks one's modesty," he said. Hence Pasadenaans still expect to be "shocked" on occasion.

Exonerate Two Drivers Of Accident Blame

man Hospital. Hovatter lost a large quantity of blood.

Miss Blanche Bertola, who sat in the driver's seat of the truck, along with Leary and Mr. Hamilton, said that Leary was driving the truck at about 20 or 25 miles an hour, and was taking her to her home on Bath Road. She saw the Hovatter car approaching, and remarked to her companion, "I think that car is going to hit us."

She said that Leary pulled the truck over to the right side of the road as far as he could, in an effort to avoid a crash. Leary, taking the stand, confirmed the testimony of Miss Bertola, and admitted that he was operating the truck without any driver's license.

The second inquisition was into the death of Joseph Cameron, Croydon, who was killed early on the morning of July 6th, when the car in which he was a passenger, and which was operated by Joseph Zemartis, 25, of 2556 Collins street, Philadelphia. The two men had been visiting in Philadelphia, and were returning to Cameron's home in the machine of Zemartis, with Zemartis at the wheel. Highway Patrolman Diehm told of his investigation of the accident, and said that marks on the road indicated that the machine had been off the highway for a distance of about 160 feet before it struck the pole at the Turners Country Club.

Eddington, which it pushed back about a foot and a half.

Zemartis told the jury that he and Cameron had been to Philadelphia to visit his brother, and were returning along the State Road. A machine approached with bright headlights, and the view of the road was obscured until the car had passed, when the pole suddenly loomed into view. After the accident, Zemartis called for help, and finally succeeded in stopping a machine which took the two men to the Harriman Hospital. Zemartis had one eye severely injured, and it is possible that he will lose the sight of it. He appeared before the jury last night with heavy, dark glasses. Zemartis was visibly affected when he took the stand. He said that he and Cameron were great friends, in fact they had been school chums. The two had been together all day, discussing additions to be made to the Cameron bungalow, and had gone to Philadelphia to visit Zemartis' brother whose aid was to be asked in making the proposed changes at the Cameron house. "We had spent the day together," said Zemartis, "in discussing these changes, and looking over scientific books."

WINE PRICES MAY RISE

ITHACA, N. Y. — (INS) — Wine prices may rise soon because of the cold weather last winter which caused injury and death to many grape vineyards in New York State. Prof. Paul College of Agriculture, Cornell University, says that the crop has dropped off from 65,000 tons a year ago, to 53,000 tons this season.
